MEMBERSHIP FACT SHEET

The Society for Neuroscience (SfN) is an organization of nearly 37,000 basic scientists and clinicians who study the brain and nervous system, with members in more than 90 countries.

Mission

The Society's mission is to advance the understanding of the brain and nervous system by advancing scientific exchange, supporting the neuroscience community, educating and engaging the public, and advocating for the field.

Membership

SfN membership connects you to the world's largest community of neuroscientists. By becoming a member, you will be joining 37,000 researchers, clinicians, and advocates from around the world in global scientific collaboration that promotes discovery and the translation of new knowledge into applications with the potential to change the way we live.

Ensuring a Positive Future for the Field

- SfN's annual meeting, the world's largest conference devoted to understanding the brain and nervous system

- High-impact, peer-reviewed journal JNeurosci

- Open-access journal eNeuro, with more than 550 research articles published

- BrainFacts.org, a public information initiative of The Kavli Foundation, the Gatsby Charitable Foundation, and SfN

- Innovative programs to promote diversity in the field, including the Neuroscience Scholars Program, the Latin American Training Program, and Increasing Women in Neuroscience Toolkits

- Advocacy efforts to promote the responsible use of animals in research and to provide resources for brain research in Africa, Asia Pacific, and Latin America

- Year-round outreach activities including Brain Awareness Week, a global campaign to increase public awareness of the progress and benefits of brain research

- Support for more than 150 national and international chapters

Benefits for Members

- Up to 45 percent off annual meeting registration

- Early access to annual meeting registration

- Up to 33 percent off both JNeurosci and eNeuro

- Complimentary online subscription to JNeurosci

- Access to Neuronline, with hundreds of professional development resources including articles, videos, live chats, and community forums

- NeuroJobs Career Center, a database of career opportunities for well-qualified candidates ranging from postdoctoral and faculty positions to neuroscience-related jobs in other areas

Membership Categories

- STUDENTS: Individuals who are enrolled in a degree-granting program or have received their degree within the past two years
  Graduate: $70 | Undergraduate: $30

- PROFESSIONALS: Individuals who have obtained their doctoral degree and are currently working in a postdoctoral training position

  Postdoctural: $150
  Individuals who have obtained their doctoral degree and are currently working in a postdoctoral trainee program

  Regular: $200
  Individuals who have conducted research in a neuroscience field (and do not qualify for Student or Postdoctoral membership)

  Affiliate: $200
  Individuals interested in SfN objectives but who do not qualify for other categories (ineligible to submit annual meeting abstracts)

Emeritus and Developing Countries memberships are also available.

2018 REDUCED DUES COUNTRY LIST

To support neuroscientists living in income-restricted areas of the world and to encourage global collaboration in the scientific community, SfN offers reduced membership rates to residents of developing countries as defined according to World Bank country classifications, updated annually.

Countries are divided into three categories:

- Category 1, those having "low-income economies," with a gross national income (GNI) per capita of $1,005 or less
- Category 2, those having "lower-middle-income economies," with a GNI per capita of $1,006–$3,955
- Category 3, those having "upper-middle-income economies," with a GNI per capita of $3,956–$12,235.

Eligibility for reduced membership rates is determined based on a member's primary residence and work addresses. Members who reside or work outside of these geographic locations are required to pay full membership dues.

Please contact membership@sfn.org if you believe you qualify for reduced membership rates and do not see your country listed below.
