Strengthen Your Brand

Reach nearly 36,000 members of the neuroscience research community by choosing the Society for Neuroscience (SfN) for your year-round marketing needs.

SfN offers high-visibility platforms for advertising, sponsorships, recruitment, and exhibiting, and we will work with you to create optimal solutions that fit your budget, expand your reach, and maximize your investment.

When you work with SfN, you advance the field not only by contributing to funding for SfN's programs, but also by showing scientists across the globe how your products and services support and enhance their important work.

Let our team help you put your advertising dollars to work. Contact us at adsales@sfn.org to learn more about the items featured in this Media Kit, as well as the latest advertising, sponsorship, and exhibiting opportunities.

Become a Sustaining Associate Member

Enjoy the many benefits of SfN's Sustaining Associate Membership (SAM) while helping to maintain important SfN programs, including professional development and public outreach. Now is an exciting time to join the Society, as our programs are continually expanding to serve not only neuroscientists but also students, teachers, and the public.
